

S4 Wall Street Summer Class

華爾街英語學院暑期英語班

This summer (2017), a group of S4 LPY students were given the opportunity to have extra lessons at the Tsuen Wan branch of Wall Street English, a private language academy and tutorial center. The Wall Street English center provides a fun and relaxing environment where students can have authentic encounters with native English speakers.

Through a series of games and group activities, students were able to enjoy a relaxing time honing their English skills. Since the environment at Wall Street English is open and spacious, students can feel less tension as they explore English. It was not all fun and games, however! In fact, students had the opportunity to focus on vital areas of English-language learning. Our LPY students worked hard and the results are visible: more confidence, increased vocabulary, and a new eager attitude for learning English.

Our students are always grateful for the extracurricular opportunities that LPY Secondary School brings to them. It was very encouraging to note that our students approached the Wall Street English lessons with excitement and a serious commitment to use their time wisely. By taking advantage of these enrichment activities, our students will grow into ever more inquisitive and active learners!

We learn in a relaxing environment.

English is fun.

Summer Drama Class

Let's learn about drama.

In preparation for the 2017-2018 school year, LPY teachers prepared a series of introductory lessons for the incoming Form 1 students. Among these preparatory classes was Mr. Bates' Learning English through Drama class. During this five-day class, students were introduced to the process of writing and producing their own original dramatic performances. Working in small groups, students divided the responsibilities of planning, writing, and performing short dramatic scripts.

Drama is fun! The students took full advantage of the class and worked hard to create entertaining and often hilarious scenarios. In addition to improving their acting skills, students also had the opportunity to learn new vocabulary words and practice speaking English with other new students and Mr. Bates, the Native English Teacher at LPY.

Due to the creativity and hard work of the Form 1 students, the Learning English through Drama class was a great success. Students completed the class with a greater sense of confidence in speaking and writing English, and became more familiar with their new secondary school.

Visit of the USS Ronald Reagan

美國隆納雷根號航空母艦成員到訪本校

On October 4th, a group of sailors from the USS Ronald Reagan visited our school. LPY students had the opportunity for a unique cultural exchange as they interacted with our special visitors. Through a series of structured activities and free conversation, students and sailors both learned about each other's worlds. Thanks to the hard work of teachers and the administration, the US Navy visit was a rousing success.

Our LPY students were graceful and engaging hosts to the young men and women of the USS Ronald Reagan. They proved through their active interest that our school is ready and eager to engage with the wider world. The sailors also acted with extraordinary poise and generosity and presented an admirable picture of fine young Americans.

After such a successful event, we can all feel confident that LPY is ready and able to interact on the world stage with success and confidence. We look forward to the next opportunity to reach out and engage with new cultures and new learning experiences!
